Introduction

Fieldwork places a range of different demands on people and while we welcome your participation we do need to be assured that you have a sufficient understanding of the demands and that you competent to under take the proposed work.

Medical

As a volunteer it is expected that you will have a sufficient level of physical fitness to be able to cope with the conditions. Problems may also arise if an individual has a medical condition which might suddenly render them incapacitated, or in need of urgent medical attention.

It is important that you understand that fieldwork may be carried out in areas where medical facilities are not readily accessible.

Note 1: If you are uncertain about your medical fitness you can discuss the situation with the organiser. You may be required to seek advice from your doctor and provide a statement of fitness.

Note 2: It is expected that individuals will act responsibly in this matter. A medical emergency on a field trip can be disruptive and stressful for all involved and may be extremely costly in terms of reimbursement for emergency and medical evacuation services.

I declare that I do not suffer from any medical condition, which might adversely affect my ability to undertake fieldwork, including any physical exertion involved.
