MEMBERSHIP INFORMATION AND APPLICATION FORM

The Emeritus Faculty of the ANU consists of former academic and general staff members of the University who wish to continue an association with the University to serve its interests and those of the wider community. Other appropriate persons who share such a wish may be invited to become members.

Categories eligible for membership include:

1. Former Academic Staff
   All former ANU academic staff members, either full-time, or part-time or holding fractional appointments, of two years standing or more: or a substantial period of time as a Research Assistant.

2. Former Members of Council
   All former members of the ANU Council.

3. Former General Staff
   All former general staff of the rank of ANU 8 or higher, who have served two years or more at that level.

4. Visiting Fellows
   All ANU Visiting Fellows or former Visiting Fellows who have retired from employment at another University, having been employed by a University for two years or more.

5. Former staff of other universities and similar institutions
   Applicants who come under this category must be brought to full Committee for eligibility as invited members to be determined. They must be able to show (a) that they are retired (b) that they have a degree and (c) that they have some connection to the ANU.

6. Surviving spouses or partners of deceased members

The Emeritus Faculty aims to foster a sense of collegiality among its members and to enable them to join in the academic and cultural life of the University. They can make a positive contribution to the University through a variety of means, collectively and individually. Their contribution to the social and intellectual life of the wider community, as members identified with the ANU, has the potential to enhance the visibility and reputation of the University. Members of the Emeritus Faculty do not see their activities as replacing the activities and expertise of current staff in any way.

The fee is $20
