Phyllis Montgomerie 2017 Commonwealth Award

The Royal Commonwealth Society ACT Branch provides an annual award of up to $5000 to help with expenses associated with a research or education project to be conducted in a Commonwealth country, including Australia.

Funding for the award is made possible by bequest to the Society by the late Mrs Phyllis Montgomerie, a lifelong advocate for social justice and a former president of the Society.

Criteria

There is no restriction on the field of study or endeavour. To be considered, however, projects should have the potential for demonstrable benefit for the subjects of the study and include a clear statement of objectives and identifiable outcomes.

Eligibility

To be eligible, applicants must be

- Australian citizens
- Residents of the Australian Capital Territory
- If students, graduate or higher degree

How to apply

Application forms and further information about award guidelines are available from the Secretary, Royal Commonwealth Society (ACT Branch) at rcsact@bigpond.com.au
