Freedom of Information Requests 201600025C

I refer to your request, under the Freedom of Information Act 1982. I have taken your request to be for access to:

1. Any documents that contain international student numbers by accommodation, e.g. the number of international students at Bruce Hall from 1/1/2015 – Present

2. Any documents that contain information on the number and nationalities of international students at ANU from 1/1/2015 – Present

3. Any internal ANU research on international students, particularly projections of international student numbers, cost benefit analyses, and marketing research from 1/1/2015 – Present

   Documents would be in the form of internal memos, reports and datasheets.

As the Freedom of Information delegate I find that:

- 30 documents relate to your request
- 1 document is exempt from release under Section 47G
- 20 documents are partially exempt from release under Sections 47F and 22
- 9 documents are suitable for full release

Relevant reports are also available on the University’s website at http://www.anu.edu.au/about/plans-reviews.

Section 47F of the Act provides that:

   (1) A document is conditionally exempt if its disclosure under this Act would involve the unreasonable disclosure of personal information about any person (including a deceased person).

   (2) In determining whether the disclosure of the document would involve the unreasonable disclosure of personal information, an agency or Minister must have regard to the following matters:

   a. the extent to which the information is known;
   b. whether the person to whom the information relates is known to be (or to have been) associated with the matters dealt with in the document;
   c. the availability of the information from publicly accessible sources;
   d. any other matters that the agency or Minister consider relevant.
Personal Information means information or an opinion (including information forming part of a database), whether true or not, and whether recorded in a material form or not, about an individual whose identity is apparent, or can reasonably be ascertained, from the information or opinion.

I have determined that parts of the documents include personal information of third parties and the information contained in the documents: readily identifies natural persons, the information directly relates to them and the information says something about them. I have also determined that the public release of the information would affect the individuals' personal privacy interests.

In reaching my decision, I considered: the extent to which the information is well known; whether the persons identified in your request are known to be or have been associated with the matters dealt with in the information and whether this information is publically available.

In relation to factors favouring disclosure I believe the following are relevant:

(a) the general public interest in access to information under the Act;
(b) the general public interest to scrutinise the operations of a government agency.

In relation to the factors against disclosure, I believe the following are relevant:

(c) the extent to which the information is well known;
(d) the availability of the information from publicly accessible sources; and
(e) the likely impact on the individuals if the personal information were to be released; and
(f) whether the individuals have a reasonable expectation of privacy in the information.

I have considered the public interest factors in favour and against disclosure and I find that the factors at (c) to (f) outweigh the factors in favour of disclosure. Considering all the circumstances I find that material contained in the identified documents would be exempt under section 47F of the Act. Therefore I have exempted parts of the documents identifying personal information of individuals and information detailing the personal affairs of individuals.

Section 47G provides in the relevant part that:

(1) A document is conditionally exempt if its disclosure under this Act would disclose information concerning a person in respect of his or her business or personal affairs or concerning the business, commercial or financial affairs of an organisation or undertaking, in a case in which the disclosure of the information:

(a) would, or could reasonably be expected to, unreasonably affect that person adversely in respect of his or her lawful business or professional affairs or that organisation or undertaking in respect of its lawful business, commercial or financial affairs.

In relation to factors favouring disclosure I believe the following are relevant:

(a) the general public interest in access to information under the Act.

In relation to the factors against disclosure I believe the following are relevant:

(b) the extent to which the information is known to competitors and/or others engaged in similar business; and
(c) the likely impact on the business if the information were disclosed.
I have considered the public interest factors in favour and against disclosure and factors (b) and (c) outweigh the factor favouring disclosure. I find that the document is therefore exempt under section 47G of the Act.

Section 22 of the Act applies if:

(a) an agency or Minister decides:

(i) to refuse to give access to an exempt document; or,
(ii) that to give access to a document would disclose information that would reasonably be regarded as irrelevant to the request for access; and

(b) it is possible for the agency or Minister to prepare a copy (an edited copy) of the document, modified by deletions, ensuring that:

(i) access to the edited copy would be required to be given under Section 11A (access to documents on request); and
(ii) the edited copy would not disclose any information that would reasonably be regarded as irrelevant to the request; and

(c) it is reasonably practicable for the agency or Minister to prepare the edited copy, having regard to:

(i) the nature and extent of the modification; and
(ii) the resources available to modify the document; and

(d) it is not apparent (from the requestor from consultation with the applicant) that the applicant would decline access to the edited copy.

I have determined that the documents identified in the schedule of documents include matter irrelevant to the request and that information has been redacted from the documents.
