Application for Elite Athlete Adjustments 2019

The Australian National University Elite Athlete Program - Admissions

This application form is to be completed by domestic undergraduate applicants whose education has been affected by elite level competing and training commitments during study relevant for entry to the Australian National University (ANU). The eligibility criteria outlined below will assist you in determining your eligibility.

The ANU awards rank adjustments to domestic students with good academic potential, whose education has been affected by elite level sporting commitments during years 11 and/or 12 (or equivalent), including prospective undergraduate students who can demonstrate training and competition commitments have affected their HSC (or equivalent) preparation. To be considered for eligibility you must have competed at a state, national or international level and you must prove that these commitments have had an impact on your schooling. Approval under this scheme does not guarantee that an offer of admission will be made.
