THE CO-CURRICULAR OR SERVICE REQUIREMENT

To apply to ANU, you have to meet our co-curricular or service requirements*. Check to see if you have met the requirements before you apply.

Skill to succeed

The skills you gain outside of the classroom matter. These experiences will help you succeed at university and increase your employability upon graduation. At ANU you’ll have the opportunity to develop these skills further through participating in internships, international exchange programs and much more.

In your application, you will have the opportunity to tell us what you learnt outside the classroom. These include activities such as volunteering, part-time work, caring for a family member or playing sport.

Meeting the co-curricular or service requirement

To gain admission to ANU, you will be required to meet the co-curricular or service requirement in addition to meeting the academic requirements for your preferred ANU program. The matrix on the next page provides examples of the type of activities that we recognise.

Each activity is mapped against seven skills:
>
> Creative and Critical Thinking
> Community Engagement
> Inclusion and Awareness of Diversity
> Communication
> Leadership
> Personal Responsibility
> Teamwork

You have met the co-curricular or service requirement when you can demonstrate that you’ve attained at least three of seven skills.

How the co-curricular or service requirement works

> The co-curricular or service requirement is a threshold which is either met or not met. We won’t rank you against other applicants.
> The requirement won’t modify your ATAR or ANU selection rank. You must meet it in addition to other admission requirements that apply to your preferred program.
> The requirements can be met through activities that were completed in Years 10, 11 or 12; and must be met at the time of application.
> Supporting documentation must be submitted to confirm your participation in activities. Example documentation and templates are available for download.

For more information and to check if you’ve met the co-curricular or service requirement, see: anu.edu.au/study/apply

2019 Undergraduate Student Guide 9
As Australia’s national university, we strive to lead the way when it comes to acknowledging, celebrating and supporting our Indigenous people.

With this in mind, we make a point of maximising opportunities for our Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander students.

Tjabal Indigenous Higher Education Centre

‘Tjabal’ describes the return of people and clans to a central meeting place—a homeland. Bringing these experiences, knowledges, and memories together allows us to share and grow as a community. At the Tjabal Centre, you will find Indigenous students and staff strongly committed to improving education outcomes and achieving study and career goals that positively impact Indigenous communities.

The Tjabal Centre provides:

- academic support and advice
- pastoral care and personal support
- access to free, high quality tuition
- advice on internships and scholarships
- access to ANU services, including the health centre, careers and academic skills and learning
- outreach programs for prospective ANU students
- study spaces, a computer laboratory and lockers
- bikes for cross-campus use.

Indigenous pathway

All Indigenous students who want to study at university should be able to do just that.

- Priority admission. This means that if you meet the admission requirements for your ANU program of choice and declare your Indigenous heritage, you will be given preference.

- anu.edu.au/indigenous-pathways

Zoe Turner

Bachelor of Actuarial Studies

"I grew up moving around a lot in Queensland and Tasmania. A constant in my life has been my culture. I applied to ANU because of its strong reputation both academically and in its community. As a Torres Strait Islander student, knowing that ANU has a strong Indigenous community has made the transition to Canberra and university life much easier. Seeking out support when you need it will improve your university experience so much, and knowing that the Tjabal Centre is always there, will put you at ease. In addition, attending Tjabal events will open up opportunities and allow you to meet new, fabulous people. I’ve enjoyed my time at ANU immensely and look forward to using what I have learned to make a contribution to my culture."
SCHOLARSHIPS

You can apply for a wide range of scholarships at ANU to help make university more affordable.

Scholarships are awarded for a range of things including academic merit, financial need, and equity and accessibility, and can help to offset the cost of tuition, accommodation and travel expenses among other things.

Some of our scholarships include:

The Tuckwell Scholarship

The most transformational undergraduate scholarship program in Australia is made possible through the generosity of ANU alumnus Graham Tuckwell and his wife Louise. The scholarships are funded by the largest ever contribution made by an Australian to an Australian university.

National Indigenous University Scholarship & National Indigenous Merit Scholarship

The objectives of the National Indigenous University Scholarship (NIUS) and National Indigenous Merit Scholarship (NIMS) are to acknowledge the academic excellence of Indigenous students in secondary school studies and provide assistance with costs related to tertiary studies.

To be considered for the NIUS, an ATAR 95.00 and above or equivalent, with no adjustment factors, must be achieved.

To be considered for the NIMS, an ATAR between 90.00 to 94.94 or equivalent, with no adjustment factors, must be achieved. Additional eligibility criteria apply.

Australian National Scholarship

Each year the Australian National University may offer up to 25 awards known as the Australian National Scholarship.

The award is to provide access and support to talented students from disadvantaged backgrounds.

Australian Excellence Scholarship

The Australian Excellence Scholarship is to acknowledge the achievement and provide financial assistance and support the top three student’s achieving the highest ANU selection rank or ATAR in each Australian state and territory.

The Love Scholarship

Jonah Hansen

Bachelor of Philosophy (PhB) Science

"I am fortunate enough to have received the Tuckwell Scholarship; a scholarship that not only provides financial help but offers multiple opportunities and personal development programs that have benefited me substantially. At the heart of the scholarship is a desire to help students find their true potential so that they can one day give back to Australia, which is a very noble goal."
ACCOMMODATION

Be a part of our residential community on campus.

Live on campus

ANU has different residences for undergraduate students. You choose between catered, self-catered or flexi-catered options. The residences have laundry facilities, outdoor spaces and study rooms, and are all in walking distance of shops, cafes, sporting facilities, clubs and public transport.

Live off campus

There are a number of ANU-recommended accommodation options off campus too: Weeden Lodge, the Australian Institute of Sport Residences and University of Canberra Village.

You can also choose to rent your own house or apartment, either by yourself, or in a share-house arrangement.

Cost of living

In addition to accommodation costs, you will also have other costs to consider when moving out of home to study at university. It is a good idea to make a list of your expenses, for example: mobile phone and internet, textbooks and stationery, and transport and entertainment. Draw up a budget based on your circumstances to help you work out how much money you will need to live on while you are at university.

Go to anu.edu.au/students/program-administration/costs-fees/cost-of-living for more information.

Tiffany Tang

Flexible Double Degree, Bachelor of Laws (Hons)/Bachelor of Music

"I was very fortunate to be selected to undertake an internship with the Department of Foreign Affairs and Trade (DFAT) as a part of my law degree. Under the direct supervision of a solicitor, and at the time the Acting Director of Sea Law, Environment & Antarctic Law section in DFAT, I wrote a research paper examining historic rights in the context of international sea law. This experience added a practical dimension to my studies, and allowed me to explore in depth an area of law that I was highly interested in. Drawing from my supervisor’s wealth of knowledge and experience, I gained valuable insight into the professional workplace while also practically contributing back to the department."

Bachelor of Arts

"Spending six months studying in Sweden at Lund University not only gave me many new friends and a new appreciation for fish and meatballs, but also a broader experience of my academic subjects and an international perspective on my discipline. Exchange teaches you to communicate across different cultures and get along with people who you would otherwise never meet. Exchange, along with the many other opportunities at ANU, is not to be missed."
Single Degree Programs

Want to focus your studies?

Choose from over 50 single degree programs across our seven academic colleges. Focus on a specific subject area or select a combination of subject areas to explore.

Single degrees generally take between three and four years of full-time study to complete, and allow you to focus on a structured discipline or experience a broad range of subjects.

If you have a career in mind and know what you want to study, choose a structured degree like a Bachelor of Engineering (Honours) or a Bachelor of Health Science.

If you want flexibility to study a range of subjects within a discipline, choose something like the Bachelor of Arts or Bachelor of Science.

Ingrid Baader-Irwin

Flexible Double Degree, Bachelor of International Security Studies/ Bachelor of Development Studies

“My time at ANU has been filled with opportunities to engage and personally interact with my lecturers who have dedicated their time to tailoring the learning experience to every student. Studying International Security and Development Studies has allowed me to take a number of niche courses and build relationships with amazing teachers, who some how even manage to make exams fun. Through a number of unique teaching styles, from interactive seminars, interviews and debates to assessments that involved playing war games and running mock inquiries, I’ve gained invaluable practical skills experiences which take learning beyond the typical classroom.”

Delve into your interests while developing the systematic research skills needed for problem-solving, discovery and innovation.

Undergraduate Research Degrees are challenging study programs that give you opportunities for intensive one-on-one guidance from world-leading academics, exclusive placements in research organisations, travel and teamwork.

> You will have the same full-time workload as a student studying a single undergraduate degree.

> You will graduate with skills that are in global demand across government, non-government and not-for-profit, business, consultancy and academic sectors.

Skills to get you ahead

The employment landscape is always changing, especially as technology becomes increasingly sophisticated and prevalent in the workplace.

Traditional jobs are disappearing or changing, while new jobs are emerging in response to contemporary needs.

By choosing to undertake an Undergraduate Research Degree you will develop timeless and highly transferable skills that work across disciplines. In particular, you will develop high-order problem-solving skills that employers are demanding the world over.

These skills will let you work in and across any industry which means that when you graduate, you will be uniquely placed to direct the course of your career.

Hillary McArthur

Bachelor of Philosophy (Honours) (PhB) - Science

Hillary completed her PhB (Hons) Science in 2015 and is currently in her third year of postgraduate Medicine at ANU. She has just moved to Bega for a year of clinical experience.

Hillary says one of the best aspects about her degree was the flexibility it allowed.

“When I started my degree I focused mainly on biology and genetics, and as I started to explore all the options at ANU I branched out into ethics and science communication.”

She says that, as her degree was research focused, the fact that the academics were so approachable meant that she could contribute to a range of research.

“I was able to get hands-on experience researching parasites, science communication, diabetes, plants and cancer. The openness of ANU staff and the freedom I had to explore anything I was interested in allowed me to delve into all things science that I love.”

“I was blown away by the fact that extremely important professors would happily chat with me, and would constantly go out of their way to include you in their research projects.”

Hillary advises future students to make the most of talking to lecturers and staff for any advice.

“They’re all there for you to learn and get the most out of your time at ANU, and are really eager to help! There are lots of opportunities to try hands on research and I found this by far the best way to learn about how science really works, plus you’re literally contributing to new knowledge. It’s awesome to see what goes on in a lab and all the discussions and team work that’s involved to get a result.”
Choose the Undergraduate Research Degree that inspires and challenges you.

FLEXIBLE VERTICAL DOUBLE DEGREES

Build your undergraduate and postgraduate qualifications into one study program while saving time (and money).

In a Flexible Vertical Double Degree (FVDD) you can study a Bachelor and a Master degree in a shorter time.

An FVDD program usually takes four years to complete (5.5 if combining degrees within the Law group) and offers you time and cost savings when compared with studying a Bachelor and a Master degree separately.

Save time and money
You’ll get credit in your Master degree for related areas of study in your Bachelor degree, saving you time and money when compared with studying a Bachelor and Master degree separately.

Specialise or go broad
Study a Master degree in the same field as your Bachelor degree to develop depth of knowledge and specialist skills; or take your Master degree in a different field to broaden your knowledge and develop your transferrable skills.

Stand out from the crowd
Your Master qualification can help you stay competitive in the global jobs market.

Exceptions
Medicine, four-year Advanced degrees or those with built-in Honours, as well as some Master degrees cannot be combined in an FVDD due to their unique degree structures.

For more information on FVDDs, go to anu.edu.au/study/apply/flexible-vertical-double-degree-applications

Vertical Law programs
If you’re just shy of the marks you need to study Law at ANU, an FVDD gives you another pathway into legal practice when you study an eligible Bachelor degree combined with the ANU Juris Doctor.

The Juris Doctor is a challenging and rewarding Master-level degree. If you’re prepared to do the hard yards to maintain the required GPA to enter this program, you’ll get to graduate from one of Australia’s top law schools and be ready to launch a stellar career.

PLAN YOUR DEGREE

You can tailor your studies to suit your interests or careers goals through your majors, minors and specialisations.

What's a major?
A major is an area within a program that allows in-depth study in a particular field. A major usually consists of a set number of related courses. Majors at ANU require 48 units of study. Typically, each course is worth six units.

Then, what’s a minor?
As the name suggests, a minor has fewer requirements to fulfill than a major, in terms of points and compulsory courses. Minors at ANU require 24 units of study – so typically four courses.

And a specialisation?
Similar to a minor, a specialisation is an area of study with its own courses that are allowed to be taken in conjunction with a specific related major.
