Fulbright Scholars

There is a long-standing agreement (negotiated between the Australian-American Society and the AVCC) dating back to 1990 that any US Fulbright Scholars looking to enrol in formal degree programs would have tuition fees waived.

Most Fulbright Scholars are classified as Visiting Scholars and the number looking for formal enrolment is actually quite low.

When a Fulbright Scholar is to be formally enrolled, the area concerned is required to advise the Student Fees Office. This is so that the tuition fees for the student can be covered by a Division of Registrar and Student Services internal sponsorship.

The area concerned must provide a signed memo to the Student Fees Office advising the following details:

- Student Name
- Student ID Number
- Period that the student will be enrolled

It is imperative that this information is provided before the student is enrolled so that the internal sponsorship can be setup on the system before tuition fees have been raised.

If the information is not provided before the student has been enrolled, there is a risk that the student will receive an invoice for their tuition fees.
