Australian National Internships Program

Australian National Internships Program

R. B. Campbell, BEc LaT, PhD ANU
Director of Program

The Australian National Internships Program provides senior undergraduates with the opportunity to undertake, for academic credit, a designated research project within the workplace. Students may be from any Australian or overseas university, from any discipline (former interns have been students of political science or policy studies, communications or information technology, economics or commerce, law, geography, science, Asian or European studies, development studies, environmental studies, social work, linguistics, sports studies, music).

All placements are in Canberra, for eleven weeks, possibilities include:

- the Commonwealth Parliament (with a Senator, Member, parliamentary committee or parliamentary department);
- the Australian Public Service (with government departments or statutory authorities, such as the Department of Foreign Affairs and Trade, AusAID, Australian Strategic Policy Institute or Environment Australia);
- the ACT Legislative Assembly and ACT Public Service; or
- non-government peak and community organisations (these range from industry associations such as the Australian Chamber of Commerce and Industry, the National Farmers Federation or the Motor Trades Association of Australia, to organisations such as the Australian Council for Overseas Aid, CARE Australia or Greening Australia).

Prerequisites

Students are admitted by a Selection Committee which meets twice a year (November and May). Minimum requirements are that students are in their third year of academic study and that the internship will be officially credited to their degree by their home university.

Students therefore need to consult and obtain permission from their course adviser or a letter of cross-institutional support.
