

MASTER OF PHILOSOPHY IN APPLIED EPIDEMIOLOGY SCHOLARSHIP

CONDITIONS OF AWARD

1. INTRODUCTION

Each year the National Centre for Epidemiology and Population Health (NCEPH), within the Research School of Population Health (School), at the ANU College of Health and Medicine (College) may offer a number of awards known as the Master of Philosophy in Applied Epidemiology Scholarship (Award).

The objective of the Award is to support students undertaking a Master of Philosophy in Applied Epidemiology, which is the Australian Field Epidemiology Training Program. The program teaches scholars to investigate and respond to events affecting human health, such as infectious disease outbreaks.

Funding for this Award is provided by field placements, which are hosted by various organisations, agencies, and government departments.

2. BENEFITS

Value: The value of the Award will be stated in the letter of offer. The Award will be paid in fortnightly instalments unless otherwise stated in the letter of offer.

A Stipend Scholarship: The Award includes a stipend to cover the costs of daily living in the city of their field placement. The stipend will be paid in fortnightly instalments, in arrears, unless otherwise stated in the letter of offer.

B Relocation Reimbursement: A reimbursement may be claimed as a one-off payment to recipients, to assist with relocation costs, including those in respect of the recipient's spouse, de facto partner, and dependent child or children, incurred when recipients are required to relocate to the location of their field placement to take up the Award. Where a claim for a relocation reimbursement is in respect of a recipient's spouse, de facto partner, or dependent child or children, they must accompany the recipient to the location of their field placement, or join the recipient in their location of their field placement within 12 months of the recipient commencing the program.

These recipients are eligible to receive a one-off Relocation Reimbursement, up to $1,500 towards the costs of moving to their field placement, on production of original tax invoice/receipts. This may take the form of flight, bus or train fares, petrol costs, removal of personal effects, storage of furniture and/or other personal effects, or necessary accommodation costs incurred in the course of direct travel to the field placement (accommodation is capped at $200 per night and maximum of 5 nights).

Insurance and meal costs related to relocation cannot be claimed.

Applications for the Relocation Reimbursement should be submitted within 12 months of the recipient commencing the program. No relocation reimbursement is payable after this time or after the Award ceases.

C Conference Reimbursement: Reimbursements may be claimed to assist with costs associated with attending national or international conferences, where the recipient is presenting an oral or poster presentation related to their work in the MAE. Recipients will be reimbursed up to $2,000 on production of original tax invoice/receipts within 12 months of attending the conference or other event. To be eligible for reimbursement the conference attendance must take place before the recipient has attended their final viva. In situations where there is funding remaining after the recipient has met their requirement to present at a conference, funding may be used in other ways to support their studies (e.g. attending a relevant workshop or other training). To be eligible for reimbursement, any other use of the funding must take place before the recipient has attended their final viva, and must be agreed to by the recipient's supervisor in advance.

D Thesis Reimbursement: A recipient will be eligible to claim a one-off reimbursement of up to $420 for services associated with the production of their thesis. The reimbursement must be claimed in accordance with the thesis allowance requirements.

E Attending Final Viva: The Australian National University (University) will provide $500 towards reimbursement of airfares, accommodation and meals for recipients to attend the final viva for the Master of Philosophy in Applied Epidemiology. Claims for this funding must be submitted within 12 months after attending the final viva and must include original tax invoice/receipts.

Recipients may apply for reimbursement by submitting a reimbursement form with original tax invoice/receipts to mae.rpsh@anu.edu.au.

In such cases the University must be satisfied that the reasons relate to caring commitments, a medical condition, a disability or other circumstance which limits the recipient's capacity to undertake full-time study. In such cases, the scholarship will be paid on a pro-rata basis.

An Award cannot be transferred to another institution or ANU College or School.
