Staying COVID safe on campus
An overview of measures we’ve put in place and things you need to do to stay COVID safe on campus.

Stay home if you’re sick – get tested and follow health advice

Get tested if you’ve been exposed or are symptomatic

Be kind to each other

Visit www.anu.edu.au/covid-19-advice and read On Campus (in your inbox every Tuesday)

Key dates
• Monday 21 February – Semester 1 begins
• Monday 28 February – last day to add Semester 1 courses on ISIS
• Thursday 31 March – Semester 1 census date
• Friday 27 May – Semester 1 ends
• Thursday 2 – Saturday 18 June
  Semester 1 examination period

Events
We’re running a full program of COVID safe events, check out www.anu.edu.au/events for more

Remote work/study
We know some of our students and staff won’t be able to come to campus. Talk to us about alternatives or check out the website.

Wear a mask inside, as required

Keep your vaccinations up to date

Tell us if you test positive – notify us using the form on the ANU COVID-19 website and let your supervisor or course convenor know too

Keep your distance from others where possible

Notifying you of exposure – we assess the risk of all cases we are notified of and will notify you through your college or service division if necessary

Hand hygiene – use hand sanitiser or wash hands frequently

Improved ventilation - we’re modifying the systems in our buildings which includes changing CO2 setpoints, introducing more fresh air and having it circulated more frequently, and upgrading our air filtration systems. More detailed information is available on the ANU COVID-19 website

Be kind to each other