

COVID-19 Vaccination Survey Results

Background

A survey was run to assist the University with forward planning for the safe return of staff and students to campus and the commencement of Semester 1, 2022. The survey was open for staff, students and emeritus, honorary and visiting staff to complete from Tuesday, 25 January 2022 to Monday, 31 January 2022 inclusive. The survey was conducted anonymously and results cannot be tied to individual respondents.

Survey participation

During the period that the survey was open for participation, a total of 6,858 staff and students completed the survey. This represents 1,493 academic staff (including casuals), 1,443 professional staff (including casuals), 510 emeritus, honorary and visitors, 2,903 students and an additional 508 who responded other/prefer not to say.

Survey results

Across all four survey questions respondents clearly indicated that their preference was for others on campus to be vaccinated. This response was also consistent across all roles at the University, gender and age groups. A total of 5,673 respondents (83%) indicated that they agreed or strongly agreed with the statement 'I will feel more comfortable coming to work/campus if others are vaccinated'.

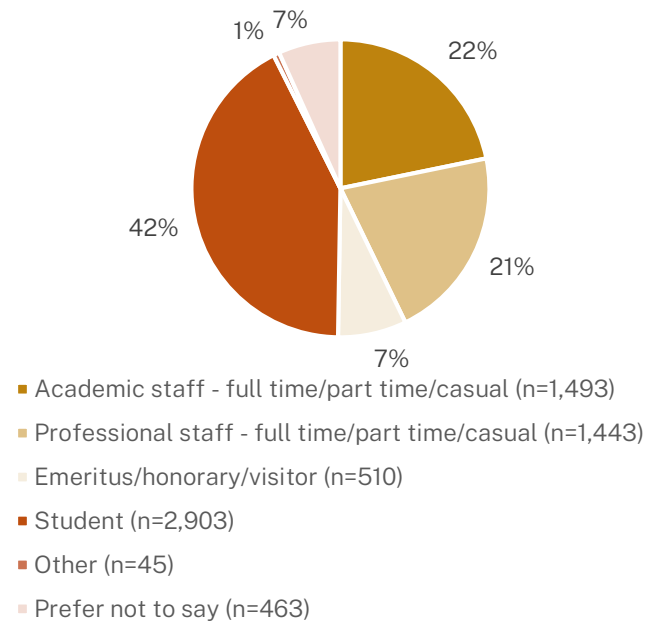

Of the academic staff respondents, 84% (1,258 out of 1,491 responses) indicated that they agreed or strongly agreed with the statement 'I will feel more comfortable coming to work/campus if others are vaccinated'. In response to the statement 'I would prefer that staff who attend campus are vaccinated', 86% of academic staff selected that they agree or strongly agree. Similarly, 85% of academic staff indicated that they agree or strongly agree that students who attend campus are vaccinated.

Professional staff also indicated a strong preference for those on campus being vaccinated. In response to the statement 'I will feel more comfortable coming to work/campus if others are vaccinated', 82% (1,186 out of 1,441 responses) indicated that they agree or strongly agree with this statement. In response to statements on their preference for staff and students on campus to be vaccinated, 84% of respondents agreed or strongly agreed with these statements. Emeritus and honorary staff and visitors had the highest support for the statement 'I will feel more comfortable coming to work/campus if others are vaccinated', with 89% agreeing or strongly agreeing with this statement. Students similarly expressed high support for this statement with 85% agreeing or strongly agreeing. The lowest support for this statement was from those who selected 'other' or 'prefer not to say' as their role at the University, with 69% and 61% respectively indicating that they agree or strongly agree with the statement.

Additional information on responses is available in the appendices.
