5.2 DATA MANAGEMENT

The data is populated on the Graduate Search website through a Drupal database from data extracted from records held in the Student Administration System as follows:

- The Division of Student Administration and Academic Services creates the degree record within SAS based on College approval that program award requirements are satisfied and allocates graduands to ceremonies for conferral.
- The ceremony date is recorded as the conferral date.
- If a graduand decides to not attend a conferring ceremony, the degree or award to which they are entitled is conferred in absentia.

The Division of Student Administration and Academic Services is responsible for managing access to SAS:

- Approving and activating user accounts in SAS
- Removing access to users who change role or leave the University
- Maintaining up to date records of user access, reviewed bi-annually and conforms to the ANU Standard: Enterprise system management.
- Staff with access include staff in Division of Student Administration and Academic Services, Colleges/Schools, and designated users in partner service divisions (e.g., IT Services).
- Access is individual password controlled and conforms to ANU ITS/CISO security policy and procedures, which are routinely reviewed.

Training to support users:

- Training and support for the system is provided through training materials sessions, online information, user forums, helpdesk support, graduate process and washup meeting. Training materials are available on Wattle and SharePoint Student Admin Practitioner’s site.
- Access may be removed in the event of non-compliance to training requirements.

Data accuracy:

- Corrections to data are made by authorised staff with information about the change (the request and advice about completion of the correction where that correction is required) is recorded in the Electronic Records Management System.
- An audit trail is maintained by the Student Administration System.
- An incident reporting mechanism is in place and subject to review by the University Academic Quality Assurance Committee.
Data disposal
- Disposal of data occurs in accordance with ANU Records and Archives Management Policy and the ANU Records Disposal Authority which determines the classification and retention requirements.

- Provide a statement that any feedback to correct data should be made to the contact.
- Change wording “is authorised through the University's Protection of Personal Information policy.” To “is consistent with the University's Privacy policy”.
- Include advice on the “Eligibility to graduate” website that graduate names, year of conferral and award will be published on the Graduate Search page. Actioned August 2019
