

THE AUSTRALIAN NATIONAL UNIVERSITY
COLLEGE OF ENGINEERING AND COMPUTER SCIENCE
HUMANITARIAN COMPUTING PRIZE
CONDITIONS OF AWARD

1. INTRODUCTION AND RECOGNITION

Each year the College of Engineering and Computer Science (CECS) may offer one prize known as the Humanitarian Computing Prize.

The objective/s of the prize is to acknowledge the outstanding performance of the student who achieves the best result (as shown by the award of the highest mark) in the course ICT Sustainability (COMP7310).

The value of the prize awarded is $500 per year and will be offered from 2019 to 2021.

Funding for this prize has been provided by Tom Worthington.

2. ELIGIBILITY

- 1) The award is available each year to an ANU student who, in that year:
 - a) is a domestic or international student.
 - b) was enrolled in a program at the University; and
 - c) has achieved the best result (as shown by the award of the highest mark) in the course ICT Sustainability (COMP7310).

3. SELECTION AND CONSTRAINTS

Selection is made on the basis of students' academic achievement in the nominated course.

If the nominated course ceases to be offered, it may be replaced by another course offered by CECS, the content of which is similar to the content of the previously offered course.

The Dean or nominated representative of CECS reserves the right to make no award if it considers there is no applicant of sufficient merit. The Dean or nominated representative of CECS may also vary the number of prizes if multiple winners are identified by splitting the prize.

Where required, the University Medal Committee will be available for qualitative or subjective assessment determinants if a decision is not reached within the College to determine prize winners.

4. RECIPIENT OBLIGATIONS

The awarding of a prize is based on the information provided to the University. A prize may be declined by the recipient once they have been notified as the prize winner. This must be provided in writing to studentexp.cecs@anu.edu.au no later than 10 working days from the date of notification.

If the prize is accepted by the recipient, they agree to the Publication of their name.

In some instances the recipient may be asked to:

- a) write a letter of thanks to the donor;
- b) participate in marketing activities and/or asked to provide a reflective statement.

5. REVIEW OF PRIZE

The award will be reviewed:

- a) at the conclusion of the period outlined in section 1; or
- b) if any eligibility requirements are to be amended
- c) after 3 years

whichever is earliest.

6. VARIATION TO CONDITIONS OF AWARD

In exceptional circumstances and on a case-by-case basis, these conditions of award may be varied by the Dean on the recommendation of the Chair of Selection Committee.
